ASCS Today

By TOM CONRAD

WHEAT PROGRAM BENEFITS REVIEWED - With wheat carryover stocks expected to remain large at the end of this season, farmers may want to study the benefits of the 1985 wheat acreage reduction program in relationship to their farming operation.

In an effort to reduce planted acreage, production contains a combined 20 percent acreage reduction requirement and a 10 percent paid land diversion. Participants may receive 80 percent of the diversion payment at signup. The program sign-up opens Oct.15, 1984 and closes March 1, 1985.

Farmers who participate in the program will be eligible for target price protection at $4.38 per bushel, national average price support loans at $3.30 per bushel, and land diversion payments at $2.70 per bushel.

Program participants will be required to limit their 1985 wheat planted acreage to no more than 70 percent of their farm's wheat base. Ten percent of the farm's wheat base plus 28.57 percent of its planted wheat acreage must be devoted to an acreage conservation reserve. The 1985 acreage bases will be the average of the acres planted and considered planted to wheat for the 1983 and 1984 crops.

U.S. wheat production for 1984/85 is forecast at 2.54 billion bushels, 100 million bushels above 1983-84. Agriculture officials say the larger production comes at a time of declining exports. Because current supplies are large relative to use, farm prices for the 1984 crop will probably average near the $3.30 a bushel loan rate. The target price is $4.38 per bushel for this season, so wheat growers who participated in the 1984 acreage reduction program will likely earn another large deficiency payment.

Further details of the 1985 wheat program may be obtained from the Appomattox County ASCS office.

REMINDER FROM FCIC - Notices of Damage or Loss - Farmers should notify their agents 15 days before harvest begins if a loss is expected on any insured crop.

Where a loss is expected on flue tobacco an adjuster must inspect stalks before they are destroyed. Be sure to give notice as soon as you've finished harvesting if you think you're not going to make coverage.

Happiness is 4-H

By FRANK H. SWEET
Extension Agent

Five County Fair catalogs should be available this week. We've asked the Fair Association to send catalogs to each 4-H member on last year's mailing list. You should be getting yours in the mail soon. Please take a few moments and look through the catalog. We would like to encourage each 4-H member to enter at least one item in the 1984 Fair. Many members will enter several items.

4-H members should work hard toward the completion of at least one project from last year. These completed 4-H projects will be due in the Extension Office by the end of September and members may turn in projects during regular meetings or during special activities.

Thanks to the 4-H members, friends and leaders who played on the 4-H softball team which participated in the tournament to help raise money for the Steve May Kidney Fund. The team was organized by Tom Conrad and included: Dale Glover, Marvin Glover, Doug Marshall, Howard Anderson, Bobby Wingfield, Brett Marston, Brod Pack, Curtis Moore, Ernest Humbles, Jr., Bob Poole, Johnny Goin, Mark Thomas and DeWitt Goin.

The need for 4-H volunteer leaders is a pressing concern for each community 4-H club. We would like to have several volunteers working with each community club and leaders who are willing to help organize new community clubs. The 4-H volunteer leader works closely with the young people in a community club, helping them to learn from 4-H projects, activities and events. Community clubs also provide the young people with a chance to develop individual leadership abilities. If you, as a 4-H parent or interested adult, would be willing to help young people grow through 4-H please give us a call at the Extension Office.

Ruritans help Evergreen celebrate 130th birthday

The Evergreen Community held a birthday celebration on Saturday, August 11. Joining the community in celebrating their 130th year of existence was the Evergreen Ruritan Club. Approximately 200 people enjoyed a day of fun and fellowship including horse and buggy rides, games and a variety of contests.

Commemorative plates went on sale the day of the birthday celebration and are still available. Anyone who wishes to purchase a commemorative plate may contact any Evergreen Ruritan Club member.

"The Evergreen Ruritans would like to thank everyone for making the day such a success. A special thanks goes to Raymond Dickerson for serving as auctioneer," said a spokesman for the Ruritans.
